for appointment to the Indian Police Service assessed by the Special Recruitment Board.

(iii) The Special Recruitment Board will consider the applications received in response to the supplementary advertisement referred to in sub-para (i) above, as well as the candidates referred to in sub-para (ii) above and arrange selected candidates in a common All-India list along with the candidates already selected from the Provinces. The All-India list so prepared will be utilised in filling the gaps in the State cadres to the extent necessary.

(iv) It may not be possible, however, to fill the entire gap which may be left after the existing incumbents have been selected in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 by emergency recruitment as described above. In the first instance, the number of candidates selected by the Special Recruitment Board may not be sufficient to fill all the vacancies in the Provinces and the States. Secondly, a portion of the gap has to be left unfilled in order to provide for the officers of List II referred to in parapraph 5, who may be considered suitable for the Indian Police Service in the course of five years. To what extent, therefore, the gap should be filled by emergency recruitment in each State or Union will be decided after the selection of the existing incumbents and open market candidates has been completed. The gap that is then left unfilled (together with the vacancies likely to arise within the next five years)) will be pooled together, and will be filled in accordance with a five-year programme of recruitment to be drawn up thereafter.

6. Future Maintenance.—The Indian Police Service cadres of the States are to be normally maintained on a permanent basis:—

(a) by direct recruitment on the results of the annual competitive examination held by the Federal Public Service Commission on an All-India basis, for all the cadres of the Indian Police Service, and (b) by promotion to each State Cadre from amongst officers of the State Police Service concerned.

As in the case of the provincial cadres, 25 per cent of the senior posts in the cadre of each State will be earmarked for promotion of officers of the State Police Service concerned. The remaining posts will be declared to be direct recruitment posts and filled on the results of the competitive examination referred to above. The rate of normal annual recruitments is prescribed in the case of each cadre in the Statement in the Appendix to this Scheme.

Note.—The five year programme referred to in the preceding paragraph will be based on both these methods of recruitment namely, promotion and direct recruitment. It will differ from the normal recruitment in future only, in respect of the numbers to be recruited from each of these two sources. It may be necessary in order to fill all the remaining gaps in the course of the next five years to increase both the rate of promotions from the States Police Services and the rate of direct recruitment on the basis of the competitive examinations. Existing arrangements for provision of officers on deputation from Provincial Cadres will be continued to the extent found necessary and permissible; and the aim would be to complete the stabilisation of the States' Cadres and make them self-sufficient before the end of the five-year period.

7. Training.—During the transitional period of five years, it will be necessary to take special steps for training the emergency recruits appointed to the cadres of some of the States. In a few States there are senior officers in sufficient numbers who can undertake the training of those annually recruited This is true of Hyderabad, Travancore and Mysore. In States which have joint cadres with neighbouring Provinces the training of raw recruits can be undertaken by the provinces concerned. Thus in the case of Saurashtra, Vindhya Pradesh and PEPSU, the training of the new recruits can be undertaken by the Governments of Bombay, Central Provinces and the East Punjab, respectively. For certain States, however, special steps are necessary, since facilities for training fresh recruits do not exist in these States. In such cases it will be necessary to make arrangements with neighbouring Provinces to train fresh recruits and depute (for the duration of such training) officers of the Provincial Police Service of the Province to fill the vacancies in States concerned. The details of the training and the consequential deputation for the period of training will be arranged in due course in consultation with the Provincial and State Governments concerned.

8 Concluding Remarks—The constitution of the Indian Police Service Cadre in the States, it is hoped, will help to create and maintain a high level of efficiency in the higher policy personnel of all States and to maintain uniform standards of administration in the States and the Provinces. In order to ensure the attainment of this objective, it is necessary that the State Police Services should in their turn attain a sufficiently high standard. This is important not only because the State Police Services would be required systematically to provide a proportion of recruits to the Indian Police Service Cadres of the States; but also because, in the absence of efficient State Police Services it would not be possible for a limited number of Indian Police Service Officers to function effectively. In order, therefore, that this scheme for the extension of the Indian Police Service to the States might succeed in full measure, it is necessary that the State Government should examine the existing methods of recruitment and the conditions of service of the State Police Services and take necessary steps to attract and retain recruits of the requisite quality in adequate numbers, and maintain such conditions as would enable them to give of their best to the States they serve.

Sri G. VEERAPPA (Chitaldrug District—General).—Under the present Constitution, are the Government aware that there is no obligation on the part of Mysore to integrate with the All-India Services?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Obligations are of different kinds.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Is it in the discretion of the Government of Mysore to integrate or not?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Government have some option in the matter.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—My question is whether it is obligatory on the part of the Government to integrate or whether they are compelled to integrate.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—There is no compulsion as such so far.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Have the Government examined the constitutional and legal aspects of integration?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Is it not essential that necessary enactment must be passed in the Parliament of India?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—So far as we are advised at present, it is not so.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Who constitute the Commission and who are those members?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I cannot give the Hon'ble Member the names of the members. As I said already, there is a Sub-Committee of the Federal Public Service Commission and the Chairman of that Commission is also the Chairman of that Board. I am not in a position to give the other names.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Are any rules framed for the purpose of selection?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The Board will go into the records of the work of the various officers. They will have the opinions of the Government also with regard to the officers of the senior service. On the basis of the work of the officers and also by oral examination, they will come to a decision.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Is it not a fact that the Mysore Civil Services Association have expressed their opinion that they are not agreeable for the integration unless certain safeguards are provided for them?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—As I have stated already, the Mysore Civil Services Association have passed certain resolutions which they have communicated to the Government for consideration.

Sri G. VEERAPPA.—Are there any advantages for us if we integrate with the All-India Administrative Services?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—If the Hon'ble Member will go through the note appended to the answer to this question he will get full information on that point.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK (Chitaldrug District—General).—Before accepting the principle underlying the integration, did the Mysore Government go into details as to the percentage of services that are to be integrated?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The principle is accepted on general consideration and then other details will be gone into afterwards.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Is it proper to accept the principle without knowing what the details are?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—That is a matter of opinion.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Have they not considered that they are not going to be screened?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—They have not said so definitely.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Will the Government place their representation on the table?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—We will consider it.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Have they not represented that this kind of integration will affect the services of the Government of Mysore?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That question has been answered.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Have they not said in their representation that such integration will not be in the interests of the services of Mysore?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That question has been answered.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Very well, Sir, I will put a further question. Was the Mysore Civil Services Association consulted before the principle of integration was accepted?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Government considered that it was not necessary to consult the Civil Services Association.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Did the Government consider that at least it was necessary to consult the Legislature before accepting such a principle?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That question has been answered. He said that he has no objection to know the opinion of the House.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Before accepting the principle, did the Government think of consulting the Legislature?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Honourable Member knows whether the House was consulted or not.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Did the Cabinet take any decision on the matter whether it was necessary to consult the House?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—If the Cabinet had taken a decision like that, they would have certainly consulted.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Even now, will the Government place the details before the House, before taking a final decision?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Details have been discussed on the floor of the Legislature at least on matters of a similar nature.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Will they place the matter before the House at least now?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Well, that point has to be examined.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—May I know what hold the Government of Mysore can have on the officers after the integration?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That question has been answered.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—The answer was 'same control as other States have'; the term 'control' is wide. We want to know to what extent the Government can control and exercise their authority on the officers in matters of discipline, as for instance, whether they can at least fine an officer belonging to the Indian Administrative Service.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It is a matter of detail and I am sorry I am not in a position to answer it straightaway, definitely.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Have the Government not been intimated as to what powers they can exercise over them? Have they not been intimated of details?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already answered, Sir, that the general position will be that this Government will have the same control onthe I.A.S. officers as other Governments will have over similar officers in their respective States. And I have also said that so far as details are concerned I am not in a position to say them definitely now.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Does not article 16 (4) of the Constitution of India lay down that the interests of backward classes should be safeguarded and adequate representation should be given to them?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That question does not arise.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—Have the Government considered the implications of article 16 in the matter of integrating the services?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Every State has got a right to reserve certain appointments for backward classes. That is the purport of article 16 (4). And so far as the Central Services are concerned, it is the Central Government who can lay down the percentage of services with regard to the backward classes. So far as the Provincial Services are concerned, this Government can lay down the percentage.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—I am submitting to the Government whether they would be recommending in those proposals provisions for safeguards required for the promotion of the interests of backward classes even in the I.A.S. The Centre may take any decision. But are our Government going to propose such safeguards?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—When there is provision in the Constitution, why should we make any recommendation?

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—No, Sir. Our Government are trying to integrate the State services with the I.A.S. without any compulsion on their part. Is it keeping in view the provisions of article 16 you would be making proposals so that the Centre may also be aware of them?.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The question, I am afraid, is not clear.

Sri A. BHEEMAPPA NAIK.—The Indian Administrative Services are controlled by the Centre. Will the Government make proposals to safeguard the interests of backward classes in such services while accepting the details of integration proposals?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The Scheme has come from the Government of India and we have been asked to consider that scheme. We accepted that scheme in principle.

Mushir-ul-Mulk J. MAHOMED IMAM (Chitaldrug cum Tumkur—Muslim).—Have the Government of Mysore finally agreed to integrate the Civil Services of the State with the I.A.S.?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The Government of Mysore have agreed in principle to the extension of the I.A.S. and the I.P.S. Services to Part B States including Mysore.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—My question was, have the Government of Mysore agreed to integrate the Mysore Civil Services with the I.A.S.?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I did not want directly to correct the language of the Honourable Member. It is not integration with the I.A.S. It is a proposal on behalf of the Government of India to extend the Indian Administrative Services to Mysore also. That, we have accepted in principle.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Before accepting the proposal in principle, did the Government of Mysore consider the advantages and disadvantages of such a proposal?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Will the Hon'ble Chief Minister be pleased to state what advantages would accrue to the Government of Mysore and to the officers of the Mysore Civil Services by the extension of the I.A.S. to Mysore?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—If the Honourable Member had been pleased to peruse the copy placed on table, he would have known what the advantages are. They are mentioned clearly there.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—These are theoretical advantages which I have taken the trouble to study. Apart from this, are there any other advantages from the administrative point of view and from the personal point of view of the services, by the extension of the I.A.S.?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It was considered by the Government that the proposal was on the whole advantageous.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—I would like to know the definite advantages so far as the administrative point of view is concerned.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The answer is already given there. For example, Mysoreans can participate in the I.A.S. and I.P.S. Schemes. There will be interchange of officers, and an esprit de corps, among the all-India services.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—So far as the officers are concerned, did the Government consider whether the pay, prospects and seniority, etc., of the Mysore officers will be better or will be worse?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I cannot be a prophet; but the hope is that their future will be better.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—I cannot be satisfied by mere hope. Did the Honourable Chief Minister or the Government of Mysore take care, before agreeing, to see that the pay, prospects and status of officers are not affected by accepting such a proposal? Did they examine this question and if so, what is their opinion?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The grades of I.A.S. officers are certainly better than the grades of Mysore Civil Service officers.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Will our officers, when they are absorbed in the I.A.S., get the same grade and the same pay as that of the present I.C.S. officers?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The grades of I.C.S. officers are confined to the existing personnel. The I.C.S. cadre will be abolished.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—What I would like to know is whether our officers, when they are absorbed in the Indian Administrative Service, will be given the same grade as of the old I.C.S. officers who in future will become Indian Administrative Service Officers?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I am afraid there is some confusion in the mind of the Honourable Member. I.C.S. scales are different and they will remain so so long as the existing personnel who are in the service continue. Then, the scheme that will be put into operation in India is the Administrative Service. The Administrative Service takes the place of the I.C.S. in course of time. The cadre for the Administrative Service has been fixed. They want to fix the strength for Part B States also. That is the scheme that has come before this State.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Before accepting the proposal did the Government of Mysore take steps to safeguard the interests of these officers regarding their seniority and place? If so, what are they?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—As I have already stated, no decisions have been taken with regard to the steps that this Government have to take in order to safeguard the interests of those who will be taken into the Administrative Service or what the Government of India have to do with regard to these matters. All those are details regarding which no final decisions have been taken. As already stated in the replies, the principle has been accepted and since all people cannot be taken some people have got to be selected by a procedure laid down by the Government of India; that has been settled. Beyond these two things, nothing has been finalised.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Was it obligatory on the part of the Government of Mysore to accept this proposal?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—That question has already been put and I have replied.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Did the initiative to join the I.A.S. originate from the Government of Mysore or did it come from the Government of India?

Mr. SPEAKER.—The Hon'ble Chief Minister said that it came from the Government of India.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I may modify the answer to this extent. When the Government of India launched the Emergency Recruitment Scheme somewhere in 1948 for the I.A.S., it was stated that the subjects of Part B States could not compete in the examination and could not be recruited under that scheme. We asked why it was so and we were told that unless Part B States agreed to participate in the All-India Administrative Service it would not be in the fitness of things to allow the citizens of that State to compete or to appear for the recruitment. Then it was that the Government of India proposed that Part B States also may participate in the All-India schemes.

Janab J. MAHOMED IMAM.—Has a selection board been formed to select candidates within the State?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—We have said that preliminary selection here is unnecessary because we want to make it possible for all our officers to appear before the Central Selection Board.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY (Chitaldrug District—General).—Were the Government of Mysore consulted with regard to integration of administrative services before the scheme was drafted?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—They were consulted. After the scheme was prepared they asked us whether we would accept the principle.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Before the scheme was ready for communication to the State, were the Government of Mysore consulted with regard to the repercussions that such a scheme would have in Mysore?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Not the details of the scheme. The Government of India did not consult us before that scheme was drafted.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—My point exactly is, were the Government of Mysore consulted in regard to the extension of the scheme?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—They asked us whether we would agree in principle to the extension of the Administrative Service and the Police Service to the State of Mysore.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—I have failed to understand from the appendix furnished what exactly is the principle of integration. Does it mean that only some provincial services are to be integrated or some officers are to be selected? What exactly is this principle we have not been able to understand.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The principle is to have an Administrative Service applicable to all parts of India. Hitherto, the Administrative Service was confined only to Part A States. Now the proposal is to extend it to Part B States also. What shape it is taking and details, as I have already said, have not been settled.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—I want to know the implication of the extension of this scheme to Mysore.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The implication is that certain grades will be included in the all-India cadre.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Does this not involve rejection of some officers and selection of some officers within the State?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It does involve.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—May I know the basis on which some officers are going to be selected?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already answered that.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Is it educational qualification or efficiency in the discharge of duties or personal character? Which of these are going to determine the selection?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—All put together!

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—I would like to know if the services in Mysore which have a long and creditable history behind them have been in any way inferior to the services in the Centre or in any other State?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—That is a matter of opinion. We have always been proud of our services.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Excuse me; the selection involves competency. Only the more competent can select less competent men. I would therefore like to know if the services in Mysore are less competent than the services elsewhere?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The services elsewhere are not going to select. It is the Federal Public Service Commission that is going to select.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Am I to understand thereby that it is only the non-officials that would comprise the Selection Board?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I do not know whether they are officials or non-officials, but I am aware that the Federal Public Service Commission will comprise of both officials and non-officials.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—Am I to understand that this selection does not involve any humiliation on the part of Government of Mysore?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Absolutely nothing.

Sri M. GOVINDA REDDY.—No inferiority?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Absolutely no inferiority complex.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA (Mysore District—General).—I would like to know whether Government have any definite policy in surrendering powers to the Centre? (Laughter).

Mr. SPEAKER.—That does not arise.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—In the matter of integration with the Centre, have they any definite policy?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—What is it?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Policy in the best interest of India and in the best interest of Mysore.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—I would like to know whether Government contemplate consulting the Legislature when any such matters are involved?

Mr. SPEAKER.—That is a general question; the Hon'ble Member may please ask questions on the main question.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Are Government aware that this integration will result in excessive centralization of power?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I cannot answer that question straightaway.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Are Government aware of evils of excessive centralization?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The answer is obvious.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—I want to know 'yes' or 'no,' Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPEAKER.—I cannot direct the Hon'ble Chief Minister to give a particular answer. (Laughter).

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—It is said in the answer that one of the objects of this integration is to increase the standard of efficiency. Do Government honestly believe that this is going to result in increased standard of efficiency?

(No reply)

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—I would like to know whether Government honestly believe?

Mr. SPEAKER.—They do honestly believe. (Laughter).

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Why did Government not consult the Legislature before agreeing to the propcsal?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Government did not consider it necessary at that stage to consult the Legislature. The matter has come up before the Legislature now.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Government have not raised this as a motion for consideration or ratification but it has come in the form of question. My question is, why did not the Government after taking a stand, consult the Legislature and get it ratified?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The matter has been referred to in His Highness' Address yesterday.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Why did not Government consult the members of the Civil Service who are going to be affected in this matter?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Because the Government thought it was not necessary.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—What was the impediment?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already said that the opinion of the Civil Service is before the Government and that the Government did not feel it necessary to consult the Civil Services Association or the officers as such before any decision was taken in this matter.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Are Government aware of article 312 of the constitution wherein it is stated that if integration of Civil Services is to be made, it must be only through a Bill passed by the Parliament?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already answered that question.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—I beg to submit that this question has not been answered. Are they aware that article 312 contemplates that such integration of the Services of the State with the Centre can only take place through a Bill passed in Parliament?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already said that the Government is aware of that article. When Sri G. Veerappa put that question, I have replied.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Are Government aware that any action taken in this behalf will not be in agreement with the implication of article 312?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I am not prepared to readily agree to it. But we are prepared to look into all these points.

Sri H. M. CHANNABASAPPA.—Are they aware that it is likely to bring about a break-down in the Civil Service in the State?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—That is the Honourable Member's opinion.

Sri M. V. KRISHNAPPA (Kolar District—General).—I would like to know whether this question of integration of Administrative Service is going to end with Civil Servants and the Police or is it going to be extended to the Departments of Agriculture, Engineering and also to ministerial services and all that. (Laughter).

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—How can I answer that question now, Sir?

Rajamantrapravina H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA (Hassan District—General).—I was given to understand by the reply of the Honourable Chief Minister that one of the reasons for their agreeing to the integration of the service was that the B States were not allowed to sit for the competitive examinations of the A. I. S. Are Government aware that according to the fundamental rights, every one has got the right to sit for examination of a competitive nature? Was this aspect pointed out to the Government of India?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes, unless we go to the Courts we cannot interpret what the fundamental rights of various citizens and various States are. The position was that the citizens of Mysore could not sit for this examination or offer themselves for recruitment for the emergency scheme before the inauguration of the Constitution.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—The I. A. S extension scheme refers to a new scheme as it were, after the inauguration of the new Constitution of India on the 26th January.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The scheme came up before us before the inauguration of the Constitution.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—At least do the Government try to put their case about the right of these officers to sit for such examinations?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—In fact, we had raised that question and because we raised that question at that stage, they have put forward this proposal.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—Even according to the old I. C. S. scheme, Mysoreans had a right to sit for that examination. Are Government aware that unfortunately Mysore has been clubbed together among the backward States of the Indian Union where there is no Civil Service tradition?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Mysore has been put in Part B States; that is all.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—I said backward States where there was no Civil Service tradition.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—In some of the Part B States there was no Civil Service; in some there was Civil Service.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—Why I said this was, that Mysore should have preferential treatment in this matter because Mysore had a rich tradition behind it; that is all. Are Government aware that according to this proposal many of these higher posts will not be open for the officers of the junior cadre, those in the lower ranks of the Mysore Civil Service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— That is one of the implications of the scheme.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.— Would it not be real hardship on the junior members of the Civil Service if certain posts are not available for them before they retire?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— That is why, Mysore Government is trying to reserve some of the posts for such of the junior officers who may not be absorbed in the Administrative Service of India. That is all a matter of detail. Such positions we are still considering and that is why I indicated that no final decisions have been arrived at.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.— What is the percentage that the Mysore Government is going to retain and the percentage that is going to be taken over by India?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— As I have already said, no decision is taken on that aspect. Originally the proposal was that 27 Civilians may be included in the All-India Administrative Service senior cadre. But now certain other proposals are made by this Government to have lesser number and no final decision has been taken.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—By this integration, does it mean that even the Deputy Commissioners would become outsiders?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Not necessarily. All those people who are selected from the Mysore Civil Service will be later on put into the listed posts.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.— Supposing some of the Junior Officers in the Mysore Civil Service are selected. Will they not become seniors to some officers in the Mysore Civil Service? Supposing some Junior Officers in the Mysore Civil Service are selected by the Board as being efficient or smart, will they not supersede the senior officers in the Mysore Service who are not selected?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Not necessarily.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.— According to the statement of the Honourable Chief Minister, I take it that our own officers will man the district places. In that case, supposing a senior Deputy Commissioner to-day is not chosen and a senior Assistant Commissioner is chosen. Is not the latter going to occupy a senior place over the former?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— If I were to answer that question satisfactorily, I have to make a long statement. As I have already indicated, none of these detailed aspects have been finalised. The whole position is fluid and it is not expected that persons who are in the junior cadre will be lifted bodily and put into the senior cadre. No such contingency will be envisaged either by the Government of Mysore or by the Government of India.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.—I mean to say that the junior officers in the same cadre may go above the senior officers. It is possible I say. With regard to all the persons chosen for the Indian Administrative Service, the ranking will be according to the seniority as it obtained before the selection; is it so?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— As I said, with regard to all these details, no final decisions have yet been taken.

Sri H. B. GUNDAPPA GOWDA.— What is the grade pay of the I. A. S. officers?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— The senior cadre goes up to Rs. 1,800 starting with Rs 800 or Rs. 900. Afterwards, there are some select posts to which if they are taken they will get even higher pay. The junior cadre goes up to Rs. 900 or 80 so.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA (Kolar—Muslim).—It is stated that the Mysore Civil Service is going to be integrated with the Indian Administrative Service. I want to know when the Indian Administrative Service was organized.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I cannot give the exact date.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Were those officers that were taken into the Indian Administrative Service screened when they were so taken?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— In the Provinces there are both the Administrative Service and the Provincial Service. My information is that persons who were to be selected into the Administrative Service from the Provincial Service, were screened before they were selected.

Janab MOHAMAD VALIULLA.— Were there any officers who were not screened but were taken direct to the Administrative Service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY— I should be glad if the Hon'ble Member gives me any information about it.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Did the Government come to know or not come to know that some people were taken direct to the Indian Administrative Service without screening? Were they taken without screening or not?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— We are not aware of the position definitely.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Will the Government at least now study that aspect to know if anybody has been taken like that?

(No answer).

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Did officers of the senior service in Provinces appear before any Selection Board?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Our information is that certain officers belonging to the Provincial Service were called upon to appear before the Selection Board.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Only certain officers, not all?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I do not know all the details relating to that. But our information is that some of the officers belonging to the Provincial Civil Service were asked to appear before the Selection Board.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Were there any gaps left after they were screened and taken, to be filled in by direct recruitment?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I cannot take any responsibility whether to admit it or deny it.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.—It it said 'Equal opportunities for all candidates belonging to Provinces and States'. Does it mean that Government are going to have any sort of preferential treatment for people who are backward so as to provide equal opportunties for all?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— The clause is there. Its meaning is quite clear.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Does the expression 'Equal opportunities' mean that there is some sort of encouragement for the backward classes?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— It means that.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— Out of the 38 persons that are likely to be absorbed in the Indian Administrative Service from Mysore, 30 will be from the junior cadre; is it not?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I have already said several times that no final decisions have yet been taken regarding these matters.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— What is the scale of pay for the senior cadre and the scale of pay for the junior cadre?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I have already given the position briefly. The junior scale starts from Rs. 350 and goes up to Rs. 950 in about 19 years' time. The senior scale starting from Rs. 800 or so goes up to Rs. 1,800.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.— The Hon'ble Chief Minister has given 38 as the Mysore number. Does it include the junior cadre officers also?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— No.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.—He also said that the Chief Secretary is one of the members of the Selection Board. Supposing he is also a candidate?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— The Chief Secretary is not a member of the Selection Board.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.—The Hon'ble Chief Minister has stated it so in the Appendix.

Mr. SPEAKER.—They have not yet constituted the Local Selection Board.

Janab MOHAMED VALIULLA.—It has been stated in the Appendix that the Chief Secretary will be a member of the Local Selection Board. Supposing he is also a candidate when officers are to be taken from here to the Centre.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—As I have already stated, there will be two nominees from the Government of Mysore to assist the Board. Who those two are to be, is a matter still to be decided later on.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA (Chitaldrug District-General).—Have the Government considered the financial implication of this policy of integration?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Does it cost our exchequer more; if so, to what extent?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It will certainly add to our expenditure. I cannot say how much exactly it will be, because it depends upon what the cadre strength of the Administrative Service will be. That is yet to be decided. I think that when a final decision is taken regarding that, we can say what the additional expenditure will be.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Will that not be an additional strain on the financial resources of the State!

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Obviously.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—When our Government sent their proposals to the Government of India, have they brought to their notice the present policy of the Mysore Government with regard to the recruitment here for our Administrative Service, that is, the Mysore Civil Service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes, the Government of India are aware of the position.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Have the Government brought to their notice the special features of the Mysore Civil Service with regard to recruitment?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Has it been brought to the notice of the Government of India that the policy of this Government is to see that backward classes receive certain preference with regard to recruitment?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Not specifically in relation to this matter, but in respect of certain other matters there has been some correspondence between the Government of India and the Mysore Government.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Will the Hon'ble Chief Minister be pleased to place on the table of this House the proposals that have been submitted to the Government of India in this connection!

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—We will consider it. As I said, no final decisions have yet been taken in regard to all these matters and it is to be considered whether it will serve any purpose at all to place befre this House these matters.

Sri H. SIDDAVEERAPPA.—Have the Government brought to the notice of the Central Government the seeming discontent of the Mysore Civil Services Association over this problem of integration?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Yes.

Janab MOHAMED HANEEF (Bangalore—Muslim).—Will I be wrong if I were to say that the present arrangement will be one of replica of the Indian Civil Service and the Imperial Police Service and other services obtaining at the time when the British were here?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—All India Administrative and Police Services will take the place of the Indian Civil Service and the previous British Service.

Janab MOHAMED HANEEF.—If that is so, will it not affect the interests of a Mysorean sitting for an examination and passing it as he cannot have the choice of selecting his own province to serve as the I. C. S. and other services were having it?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Candidates who pass these competitive examinations will be allotted to various Provinces and the considerations that used to govern the final decisions in the previous set-up will also be made applicable hereafter.

Janab MOHAMED HANEEF.—I hope that when once they select a Province they will not be disturbed?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Exactly. When once a certain Province has been allotted to candidates of particular States, shifting does not take place thereafter.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH (Mysore District—General).—What is the method of screening, Sir?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already answered that question. I do not know what procedure they will follow. But I have already indicated that the previous history of the services of the officer concerned will be taken into consideration and they will have also the viva voce examination. On the basis of the available information regarding the work of every officer, they will make the selection.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—Are the Government aware that screening will hamper backward people and men in the junior service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It cannot be said so. It is only a presumption or an apprehension.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—In the method of integration, will not the tradition that has been built up by the Mysore Civil Services be hampered?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The Mysore Civil Service has its own tradition and it is very high. But it does not mean that an All-India Civil Service should not be built up because Mysore Civil Service has a high excellence of standard.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—Can justice be had from the authorities concerned in keeping up the percentage for Mysore State Civil Service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—The question of percentage has not been decided.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—Can we take it for granted that justice will be maintained in every State?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—A percentage will be maintained. Does the Hon'ble Member mean the proportion as between section and section in the State? I do not understand the Hon'ble Member clearly.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—My apprehension is that this screening might let down some of the officers of the Mysore Civil Service.

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—Mysore Government will take all possible steps to see that the pay and prospects of the present officers in the existing set-up are not prejudicially affected. If certain officers are not selected and taken to the All-India Administrative Service, we will consider what we have got to do in such cases and in what ways our scheme will have to be revised in order to ensure the pay and prospects of such officers.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—Will the same kind of relationship continue after integration with the officers selected for the All India cadre?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It cannot be the same relationship obviously. The rules and regulations governing the All-India Administrative Service elsewhere will be applicable to us also here and our Indian Administrative Officers will be attached to them.

Sri D. M. SIDDIAH.—Does integration do more good to the administration of our State when compared with the present set-up in the matter of efficiency of service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—It is a matter of opinion. We have already expressed several times what opinions we hold about the standard of efficiency of our officers.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN (Chikmagalur cum Shimoga-Muslim).—It is stated that the percentage fixed in Indian States is 25. Is the same percentage applicable to our State also? Is it the same as that applicable elsewhere?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.—I have already stated that no decisions have been taken. It is only a proposal.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—What is the percentage fixed for the Provinces?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— About the same.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— Will Mysore State be on a par with other Provinces so far as percentage basis is concerned?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Yes.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— But this question is viewed with certain amount of anxiety on the part of the Mysore Civil servants and when we see that there are so many difficulties forthcoming in this matter, can we urge upon the Government of India that the Civil Service in Mysore must be entirely made part of the Indian Police Service and the Indian Administrative Service Schemes?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— The Mysore Government is trying its utmost and will continue to put forth its maximum efforts to safeguard the interests of the Officers of the Mysore State and I can assure the Hon'ble Member that all possible steps will be taken to secure the best results.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— Was the stand taken up, that the whole service may be made part of the Indian Administrative Service and Indian Police Service?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Yes. But the Government of India have found it difficult to accept that position.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— What is the object of screening, Sir?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— For purposes of making selection.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— Does it depend on good complexion, physique and personality?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— I take it that the Hon'ble Member wants to indulge in some humour.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Has not the Government got enough records with them to show what academical qualifications our officers possess and what their efficiency is, and whether they have maintained a clean record of service, etc.?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— Yes. We have already placed all these at the disposal of the Selection Board.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.—Is that record good enough to assess the merits of the Officers?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— It is for the Selection Board to answer that question.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— What is the object of selection?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— To select.

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— On what basis?

Sri K. CHENGALARAYA REDDY.— On the record of work of each Officer, his intelligence, his character, his capacity for work, etc., and if the Hon'ble Member was a member of that Board, perhaps complexion also. (Laughter).

Janab SYED ABDUR RAHMAN.— Does it not necessarily mean that a slur would be cast on those who are left behind and are rejected by the Selection Board?

(No answer).

Mr. SPEAKER.—Question time is over.
